Vestiarion - test document for BlindPay’s development instance
This is not a real business document.
It describes no real business and no real person.
BlindPay’s development instance approves any document; a production instance reviews the business’s own documents, which this file is not.